Welcome to UTAH!

This stunning 2003 edition of the Utah! Accommodations Guide is a comprehensive listing of all Utah's lodging facilities available to serve you during your visit.

Whether you are looking for an award-winning resort, a five star-hotel, a quaint bed and breakfast, or a campground under the stars, we have what you need.

I encourage you to visit Utah's vast and spectacular landscapes during your visit. Our painted deserts are unmatched anywhere in the world. The many acres of rolling sandstone, soaring arches, and ribbons of red rock are here for your enjoyment. And, don't forget our mountains. Opportunities to hike, bike, and ski are just minutes from our urban areas. I believe there is something for everyone in Utah.

Last year, it was our privilege to host the 2002 Olympic Winter Games.

To all of our visitors we heartedly say, "the World is still welcome here."

Enjoy!

Michael O. Leavitt, Governor

Utah! Travel Areas

UTAH'S CITIES bear the imprint of the landscape. Around them, mountains, deserts, valleys, and other natural features combine with rivers and trade routes to readily divide the state into travel areas:

- Metro-Wasatch Front
- Northern
- Central
- Eastern
- Southwestern
- Southeastern

These areas are the means of sorting Utah's cities and accommodations listings.

For quick referencing we have divided the state into six travel areas.

Turn Your Vacation into an Experience!

WHILE UTAH is second to none in the quality and diversity of available accommodations, we know that you're not visiting Utah only because of the lodging we offer. Most people come to Utah for its natural beauty and the opportunities to participate in outdoor activities, or for Utah's historic and prehistoric cultural resources. Typically, visitors to Utah are families traveling by car to as many sites as possible during their week-long vacation. Our research shows that destination tourists, visitors who spend two or more days in one place, encounter a broader range of activities and have a better experience than those who don't. Time is the key to finding the richness beneath the surface of a place. Here are two of Utah's many destinations:

Destination Spring City (page 46) describes a part of Utah steeped in history and community efforts to include tourists in keeping that history alive.

Destination Boulder (page 64) takes you, first to the edge of what may be the wildest region left in the lower 48 states, and then shows you the safe way in.

Making A Reservation

To make a reservation call 1-800-847-5810 for Utah Reservations, or on the Internet go to www.utahhotel-lodging.com. To make a reservation directly with a hotel, contact the lodging property's toll-free reservation number or local phone number. It is always a good idea to make reservations prior to your visit to ensure space availability.

Payment and Cancellations: While making your lodging reservations, be sure to inquire about reservation policies, cancellation policies, and no-shows, as policies vary from property to property. Most hotels require a valid credit card number to hold your reservation prior to check-in.

Confirmation: Many lodging properties will give you a confirmation number for your reservation or will send a confirmation letter. If you do not receive any type of notification, be sure to call the lodging property and reconfirm that your reservations has been made.

Room Rate Changes: Room rate ranges listed in this guide are subject to change without notice. Confirm the room rate at the time you make your reservation to avoid any confusion or misunderstandings at check-in or check-out.

Hotel Room Tax: Tax on your room will vary by city and/or county. Make sure to confirm the tax amount when making your reservation, along with asking for detailed information on cancellation and refund policies.

Utah! Travel Tips

ARE YOU CURIOUS about what to expect when you arrive in Utah? Do you need to know where and when to take a bus, a cab or, the light rail? Are you looking to understand the widely misunderstood Utah liquor laws? Do you want to know where the Utah welcome centers are located, or where to find road and weather conditions, or how about some safety and health tips? The following are traveler-tested tips to help make your stay more enjoyable.

Getting To and Around Utah

Utah is located in the Western United States. Northern Utah is generally considered a part of the Rocky Mountain states. Climate and landscape makes southern Utah more closely aligned with the Southwestern United States.

Air Travel

Utah is accessible from cities across the United States and all over the world via Salt Lake City International Airport. From Salt Lake City, regional airlines serve cities all over the state and across the Southwest. For more information, contact a travel agent or the Salt Lake Int'l Airport, (801) 575-2400, www.slcairport.com.

Major Roads

Interstate-15 slices through Utah, north to south, from Idaho to Arizona and Nevada.

Interstate-80 crosses the northern part of the state from Wyoming, running west into Nevada.

Interstate-84 runs northwest toward Idaho from Echo Junction near the Wyoming border.

US-6 / US-191 is the major route through the eastern and southeastern portions of the state.

Interstate-70 runs west from Colorado to a junction with I-15 in Central Utah.

US-666 enters Utah's southeastern corner from Southern Colorado and joins US-191.

Bus Service

Greyhound Bus Lines access several Utah cities and towns. In Northern Utah, buses make regular stops in Provo, Salt Lake City, Ogden, Brigham City, and Logan. In Eastern Utah, Greyhound runs to Vernal and Price. Heading to Southwestern Utah on I-15, the bus line makes stops in Beaver, Parowan, Cedar City, St. George, and Wendover. For specifics, contact (800) 231-2222, or visit www.greyhound.com.

The Utah Transit Authority provides service to Northern Utah's major cities from Provo north to Ogden, including extensive coverage in the Salt Lake Valley. In winterbuses make daily trips to the ski resorts near Salt Lake City. All day ski transit passes are available for $5. For specific route information, ask at your hotel, call (801) 743-3882, or plan your trip online at www.rideuta.com.

Railroad Travel

In Northern Utah, Amtrak makes daily stops at Salt Lake City. The line also provides service to Provo (to the south). In Eastern and Southeastern Utah, there is service to Helper and Thompson Springs. Amtrak trains also stop in Milford in Southwestern Utah. Contact: (800) 872-7245, or www.amtrak.com.

Persons with Disabilities

Utah strives to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act, which ensures equal access in all public buildings. For more information contact individual properties and attractions, or call (800) 333-UTAH.

Light Rail

The 15-mile north-south TRAX light rail line runs from Sandy, a southern suburb of Salt Lake City, to the Delta Center, home of the Utah Jazz basketball team, in downtown Salt Lake City. An east-west extension line also provides service from downtown to Rice-Eccles Olympic Stadium on the campus of the University of Utah to the East.

The north-south line includes 16 stations, 11 of which include Park & Ride lots with between 50 and 414 parking stalls. The east-west extension line includes 5 stations. No Park & Ride lots are located along the east-west line. TRAX operates from 5 a.m. to 11 p.m., Monday through Saturday, and runs every 10 minutes during peak commute time, every 15 minutes during mid-day hours, and every 20 minutes during off-peak evening hours. On Sunday, TRAX operates from 9:50 a.m. to 7:10 p.m., and runs every 20 minutes. A trip along the entire 15-mile north-south line takes approximately 39 minutes, including all stops.

Before boarding TRAX, customers must purchase their tickets at the Ticket Vending Machines located at all TRAX stations. Proof of payment is required when on TRAX. Up to two children under the age of five may ride free with each fare-paying adult. Full Fare is $1.25 (one token) and is valid for two hours. Reduced Fare is $.60 and valid for two hours for persons 65 and older and individuals with disabilities. All-Day Fare is $2.50 (two tokens) and is valid all day.

For more information about TRAX, please call (801) 743-3882, or visit www.rideuta.com.

Welcome Centers

For the convenience of visitors traveling the state by vehicle, Utah has five gateway Welcome Centers. They are located just off freeway exits at key entry points to the state and provide free travel information, restrooms, and pay phones.

I-15 south bound near Brigham City in Northern Utah, (435) 744-5567.

I-80 west bound near Echo Junction in Northern Utah (435) 336-2588.

I-15 north bound near St. George in Southwestern Utah (435) 673-4542.

I-70 west bound near Thompson Springs in Southeastern Utah (435) 285-2234.

US-40 in Jensen (near Vernal) in Northeastern Utah, (435) 789-4002, Fax: (435) 781-0762.

Roads, Weather & Public Safety

Dept. of Transportation (State of Utah)
4501 South 2700 West, Salt Lake City 84119
Road report: (801) 964-6000 (Salt Lake area), toll free within Utah: 800-492-2400.

National Weather Service (801) 524-5133

Public Safety – Utah Highway Patrol
4501 South 2700 West, Salt Lake City 84119
(801) 965-4557 for administration,
(801) 887-3845 for Utah Highway Patrol (24/7)

Utah Driving Laws

Drivers License Requirements: Minimum driving age in Utah is 16. All drivers must have a valid drivers license from their state or country.

Speed Limits: On most highways, the speed limit is 55 mph. Speed limits increase to 65 or 75 mph on Interstate highways and 65 on some state roads. Increased speeds are only allowed where posted.

Turning Right on a Red Light: Right turns are allowed on a red light after the vehicle has come to a complete stop, except where signs prohibit it.

Helmet Use and Seat Belt Laws: The driver of a car and all passengers are required by Utah law to wear seat belts. Children under the age of five are required to be in federally approved safety seats. Helmet use is mandatory for motorcyclists and passengers under the age of 18.

For More Information: Contact the Utah Department of Motor Vehicles, (801) 965-4437 or the Utah Highway Patrol, (801) 965-4557.

Traveler Safety Tips

- Don't answer the door in a lodging room without verifying who it is. If a person claims to be an employee, call the front desk.
- When returning to your lodging room late in the evening, use the main entrance of the lodging property. Be observant before entering parking lots.
- Close the doors securely whenever you are in your room, and use all of the locking devices provided.
- Don't needlessly display guest room keys in public, or carelessly leave them where they can be easily stolen.
- Do not draw attention to yourself by displaying large amounts of cash or expensive jewelry.
- Don't invite strangers to your room.
- Do not leave valuables in your vehicle. Place all valuables in lodging property's safe deposit box.
- Check to see that any sliding glass doors or windows and any connecting room doors are locked.
- Report suspicious activity to the management.

Utah Traveler Health Tips

- Weather in Utah can change suddenly. Be prepared if severe weather strikes where you may be stuck outside in cold winter or hot, dry summer conditions for long periods of time.
- Utah is located in a high desert. Humidity is low and dehydration can be a problem, especially when combined with cold and altitude. Symptoms of dehydration include weakness, fatigue, and dizziness.
- A strong wind (wind chill) can cause you to lose heat quickly and lead to serious hypothermia. Dress in extra clothing layers, cover your head, and wear gloves during windy conditions. Reduce the risk of hypothermia by drinking plenty of fluids.
- Apply sunscreen and wear sunglasses and hats with brims to protect yourself as the sun is more intense in Utah due to the high altitudes.
- People who have heart, breathing, or other health problems should consult with a doctor before coming to Utah's high elevation.
- Utah roads may become icy and snowpacked, especially during the winter months, so extreme caution when driving is necessary.
- Utah law requires that you must be at least 19 years old in order to purchase, possess, or use tobacco.
- The Utah Indoor Clean Air Act prohibits smoking indoors in public places, including restrooms, restaurants, shops, businesses, theaters, etc.

Utah Liquor Laws

The sale and service of alcoholic beverages is regulated by the State of Utah. Alcoholic beverage control is a concept that Utah shares with other states and countries. Utah's liquor laws are based on the general philosophy of making alcoholic beverages available in a manner that reasonably satisfies the public demand. In this respect, however, the state does not promote or encourage the sale or use of alcohol.

A person must be at least 21 years of age or older to purchase and consume alcohol in Utah.

The following is a summary of how residents and visitors to Utah may obtain alcoholic beverages:

Wine, Liquor, and Beer

Full liquor service is available in licensed restaurants, airport lounges, and private clubs. Patrons may order liquor by the drink, wine by the glass or bottle, and beer in bottles, cans and on draft. Packaged liquor, wine, and heavy beer (over 3.2%) are available in State Liquor Stores and Package Agencies.

In restaurants, liquor, wine and heavy beer (over 3.2%) may be served from noon to midnight. Beer (3.2%) is available from 10 a.m. to 1 a.m. Patrons must be dining in the restaurant in order to be served an alcoholic beverage. Patrons may be served at their table or in a waiting area. There are approximately 500 licensed restaurants in Utah, and most are located in the Salt Lake, Park City, Ogden, and Provo areas.

In private clubs, liquor, wine, heavy beer, and beer may be served from 10 a.m. to 1 a.m. However, on Sundays and holidays, liquor, wine, and heavy beer may be served only from noon to midnight. Clubs sell alcoholic beverages with or without food, and patrons may be served at a bar or table. Many clubs provide live entertainment.

Although private clubs are primarily for members and their guests, most offer temporary "visitor card" memberships for a nominal fee (usually $5 for two weeks). The visitor card allows the visitor and up to five of his/her guests to use the private club. There are approximately 300 private clubs that offer full alcoholic beverage service. Most are located in the Salt Lake, Park City, Ogden, and Provo areas.

In airport lounges, liquor, wine, heavy beer, and beer may be served from 8 a.m. until midnight. Alcoholic beverages may be sold with or without food, and patrons may be served at a bar or table. Airport lounges are located only at the Salt Lake International Airport.

Packaged liquor, wine, and heavy beer "to go" are sold at 37 full-service state liquor stores. There are also 97 package agencies that offer a more modest selection of these products. Package agencies are often located in smaller cities and towns and in hotels and resorts, for customer convenience.

Utah offers a world class wine selection at three specialty wine stores located at:

255 South 300 East in Salt Lake City, 1863 East 7000 South in Salt Lake City, and 1901 Sidewinder Drive in Park City

Several other state stores also offer expanded wine selections.

Beer

Beer establishments sell beer to customers in a variety of venues that include taverns, lounges, cabarets, nightclubs, cafes, bowling alleys, golf courses, etc. Approximately 500 businesses sell beer for consumption on the premises. Almost half are located in the Salt Lake and Park City areas. The hours for beer sales in these establishments are 10 a.m. to 1 a.m. Beer may be purchased without ordering food, and beer is sold on draft and in bottles and cans. Beer sales to go are also allowed.

Packaged beer is also available at supermarkets, grocery stores, and convenience stores. The maximum alcohol content is 4% by volume (3.2% by weight) for beer sold in taverns, beer establishments, and stores.

"Taverns" are beer bars, parlors, lounges, cabarets, and nightclubs where the revenue from the sale of beer exceeds the revenue of the sale of food. Minors are not allowed on the premises of a tavern.

Metered Dispensing

Utah law requires restaurants, private clubs, and airport lounges to use a metered dispensing system that is calibrated to 1 ounce for dispensing the primary liquor in a mixed drink. Secondary alcoholic flavorings may then be added to a mixed drink as the recipe requires.

Wine Service

Restaurants, private clubs, and airport lounges serve wine by the glass (5 ounces) or by the bottle (750 ml).

The Fine Art of Travel

SANDS & MESAS, MONUMENT VALLEY TRIBAL PARK - Original Oil by Larry Clarkson

For more information regarding Larry Clarkson's original oil paintings of Utah landscapes, visit his website at www.clarksoncreative.com

EVER SINCE the ancestors of Utah's Native Americans chiseled petroglyphs into Utah rock walls, artists have been inspired by the magnificence and splendor of Utah's landscape. From the brush of a Leconte Stewart to the camera of Ansel Adams, Utah has provided both backdrop and foreground for some of America's greatest artists. Celebrating Utah's spirit through fine art, this accommodations guide contains the works of Utah artist, Larry Clarkson.

This accommodations guide, like its companion, the Utah! Travel Guide, celebrates Utah's spirit through fine art. A masterpiece of beauty, Utah's sculpted terrain inspires its visitors. At the beginning of each travel region, you will find artistic representations of many of Utah's finest destinations.

If you have not visited Utah, do it now and discover a part of yourself you never knew existed. Add Utah to your palette of experiences and come to know the fine art of travel at its best!

SKI IN UTAH THIS YEAR, AND THE ONLY CHOICE YOU'LL HAVE TO MAKE IS THE SKI SALT LAKE SUPER PASS.

The Ski Salt Lake Super Pass is Utah's best skiing value.

Salt Lake's four world-class resorts—Alta Ski Area, Brighton Ski Resort, Snowbird Ski & Summer Resort, and Solitude Mountain Resort—are nestled in the Cottonwood Canyons, only 35 minutes from the Salt Lake City International Airport. Each resort has its own distinct ambience and character, but they all have one thing in common—500 inches annually of the lightest, driest snow on earth, more than any other resort in Utah, Colorado, Canada, or California.

With the Ski Salt Lake Super Pass, it's easy to enjoy all of the Salt Lake resorts in a single visit. Purchase a Super Pass at any participating hotel, and freedom of choice is yours. Redeem the Super Pass for an all-day lift ticket at Alta, Brighton, Snowbird, or Solitude.

Metro-Wasatch Front Cities

SALT LAKE CITY has long been referred to as the "Crossroads of the West". Extending north from Salt Lake to Ogden, east to Park City, and south to Provo, the 100-mile-long Wasatch Front is Utah's principal population and industry corridor. Framed by breathtaking views of the Wasatch Mountains to the east, Wasatch Front cities boast cosmopolitan amenities not available in urban centers twice their size. And, for the discriminating palate, a host of fine-dining restaurants offers cuisine selections from Old Southwest to New Delhi.

Utah's vibrant arts community includes such world-renowned companies as Ballet West, the Utah Symphony and Opera, Repertory Dance Theater, and the Mormon Tabernacle Choir, as well as theaters, galleries, and museums galore. In the nearby Wasatch Mountains, many of Utah's world-class resorts play host to winter and summer sports enthusiasts, seminar and convention-goers, and those looking for a quick getaway from city life.

Salt Lake City is gateway to the Big and Little Cottonwood Canyons ski resorts and "The Greatest Snow on Earth®". Park City, a quick thirty-minute drive from the Salt Lake International Airport, is the home of three acclaimed ski areas, two that were 2002 Olympic venues; the Sundance Film Festival; a summer concert series and jazz festival; and some of the finest art galleries in the Western United States.

Northern Utah! Cities

THE TERRAIN in Northern Utah varies from desert to lush mountain meadows and crystal blue lakes. Rich in historical significance, Northern Utah played an integral part in the opening of the West. Long before the Mormon pioneers came to the area, mountain men and trappers rendezvoused with Native Americans to trade goods, furs, and information in Logan's Cache Valley, west of Bear Lake. Soon after the pioneers settled in the Salt Lake Valley, Brigham Young called on families to settle the region, and many headed for the fertile lands to the north.

Meanwhile, the American industrial revolution marched forward as the Union Pacific Railroad laid track westward, and the Central Pacific Railroad laid track eastward, eventually completing the first transcontinental railroad that met at Promontory Summit, Utah, on May 10, 1869. The event, including exact replicas of the classic steam engines, is recreated each May at the Golden Spike National Historic Site.

In addition to the Metro-Wasatch Front cities found within its boundaries, Northern Utah is also rich in wildlife and is home to migratory bird refuges along the shores of the Great Salt Lake, as well as an elk preserve at Hardware Ranch.

In between, around, and through Northern Utah's cities and mountains are remnants of early pioneer settlements and acres of fertile farmland that form an agricultural base of dairy farming and fruit growing with room left over for an increasing crop of "gentleman farmers."

Central Utah! Cities

BOTH ON A MAP and to the eye, the Great Basin Desert is one of Central Utah's most dominant features. Maps, however, can be deceptive, and while this west-central portion of the state would appear to lack topographic character, what meets the eye are small mountain ranges parading in sturdy rows across the Basin.

Although many rivers approaching the area might seem to simply disappear, the desert is nevertheless dotted with waterfowl oases.

Once upon a time, mining interests staked claim in towns such as Eureka, Salina, and Tintic. Prior to Utah statehood, the first capital of the Territory of Deseret was located in Fillmore, named for U.S. President Millard Fillmore.

To the east, Central Utah jumbles desert with the woodlands and peaks of the Fishlake National Forest, creating one of the nation's best backcountry trail systems. Farther east is a series of sheltered valley locations where Mormon pioneers lived, farmed, and then often moved on, creating one settlement after another. These towns, strung southward along US Highway 89, have maintained the atmosphere of the late 1800s and the cultural heritage of their pioneer past. Visitors here may enjoy many restored public buildings and are welcome to explore the quiet, residential streets.

Destination Spring City

SPRING CITY remains much like it was in the late Nineteenth Century after it was settled by Scandinavian Mormons sent by Brigham Young. In fact, the entire town is now listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Settle into the Wind Walker Guest Ranch where you'll find room, board, and beyond: horseback riding, a massage, or a great place to relax between forays into Spring City and the other ten towns making up the Little Denmark section of Utah's Heritage Highway 89.

You'll find masterful Scandinavian woodworking and stained glass skills reflected in many of the buildings in Little Denmark. The Scandinavian Festival in Ephraim, the Norbest Brushcreek Bluegrass Festival, and the Mormon Miracle Pageant at the Mormon Temple in Manti, offer a rich local flavor. These towns are full of shops like Horseshoe Mountain Pottery and the Claysmiths, the studios of nationally known artists like Lee Bennion, and individuals who are resurrecting traditional industries: furniture, wine, and violin making. Rag rugs, porcelain dolls, violins, and high quality handmade knives can all be found there.

So, block out a few days – better yet, a week, as this trip may take some time.

Eastern Utah! Cities

THE SPECTACULAR mountains of the Uinta range dominate much of Eastern Utah. The High Uinta Wilderness area, incorporating nearly a half-million-acres of craggy peaks, breathtaking vistas, and high-elevation lakes and streams fed by melting snows, is a haven for serious backcountry travelers and nature-lovers.

South of the mountains, the Uinta Basin mingles the sovereign lands of the Uintah and Ouray Indian Reservations with farm valleys and grazing prairies that stretch seemingly forever.

To the east, cataclysmic forces of nature have pushed and compressed the earth into odd fields of stone, coal deposits, and prehistoric swamps now layered with dinosaur and plant fossils. Eastern Utah is home to Dinosaur National Monument, as well as Flaming Gorge National Recreation Area. Below Flaming Gorge Dam, the Green River winds southward on its way to meet the Colorado River. To the south and west, the San Rafael Swell contains vast stretches of uplifts, stone reefs, and eroded swells in a confusion of twisted canyons and eerie hoodoos, such as those in Goblin Valley State Park.

Southwestern Utah! Cities

THE FAR southwestern corner of the state is sometimes referred to as "Utah's Dixie" because Mormon settlers were sent there by Brigham Young to grow cotton, taking advantage of the area's mild climate.

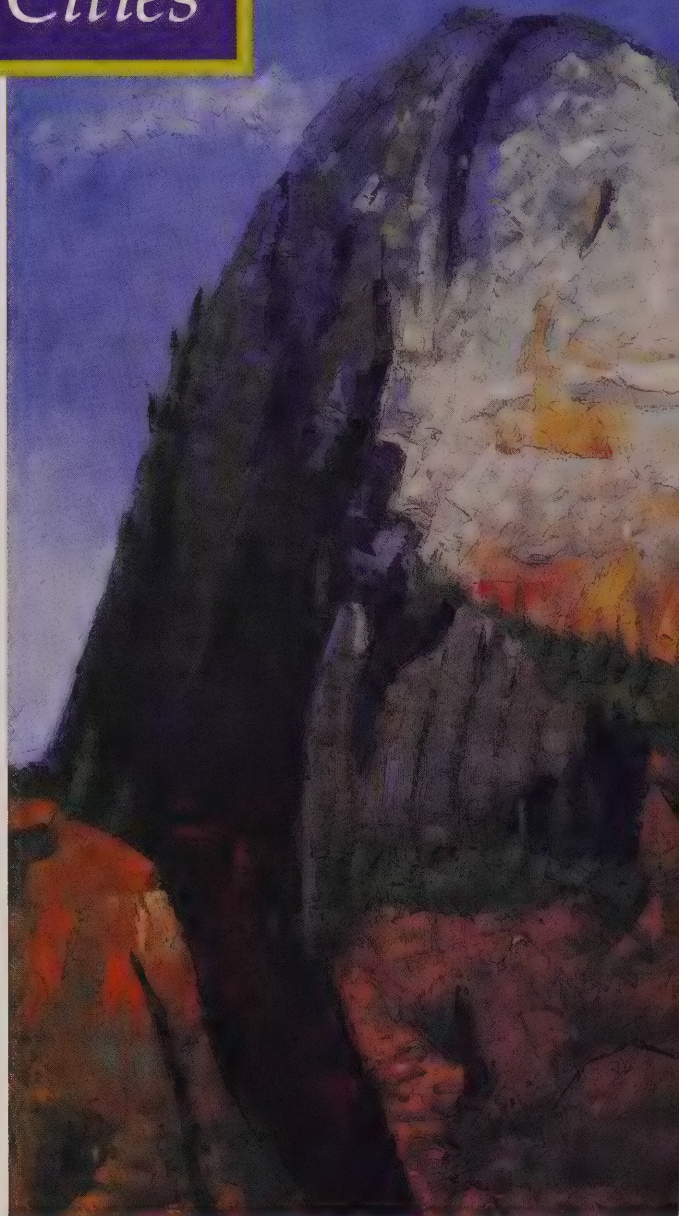

Southwestern Utah has built a reputation on warm weather and sun-filled skies.

While temperatures in St. George and vicinity are generally warm enough for only sweaters and for the ability to golf all winter, such is not the case at places like Zion, Bryce Canyon, and Capitol Reef National Parks. Each park is situated at an elevation where four seasons and broad temperature fluctuations are the norm. Even if the summer sun raises temperatures, it's not hard to find someplace that's shady and cool.

All you have to do is just walk a little way into a canyon where sandstone cliffs tower above you on both sides, or drive toward a mountain until the desert becomes a forest.

In addition to the scenery, Utah's Dixie is rich in recreational, historical, and cultural sites. From the golf and Sunbelt mecca that St. George has become, to the ghost towns of Silver Reef and Grafton, to the Tony Award®-winning Utah Shakespearean Festival in Cedar City, there's always something new to experience.

Destination: Boulder

BOULDER received its mail by mule until 1939, didn't get electricity until 1940, and was the end of the road until 1985, when the "two track" over Boulder Mountain was paved. Today, it is one of a handful of towns providing access to some of the most inaccessible land left in the lower 48 states: the Grand Staircase/Escalante National Monument.

Don't go there alone... First, check into the Boulder Mountain Lodge. Unpack, then saunter over the Hell's Backbone Grill for some linguini with Pablamo Pinion cream sauce and goat cheese. Get a good night's sleep. The next morning, it's organic oatmeal at the Grill before meeting your guide. The possibilities are endless: if you're going on a custom hiking or educational trip, you might be signed up with Passage to Utah, with Brooke or Bob leading the way, or with Keith Watts and his company, Earth Tours. Steve Stoner at Boulder Mountain Fly Fishing could show you a secret stream. Grant Johnson at Escalante Canyon Outfitters or Bevan McCabe at Red Rock n' Llamas will take you out for five nights to canyons you'd never find on your own. If you're really game, sign on with the Boulder Outdoor Survival School and go to the middle of nowhere for 28 days with only a blankie, a knife and a hand full of rice.

Whether you've been out a day or a month, the Boulder Mountain Lodge is required for recovery. Hell's Backbone Grill, a glass of merlot, counting your blessings.

Southeastern Utah! Cities

UTAH'S southeastern cities and towns were some of the last to be settled because the land here will just never be tamed. Both wild and majestic, Arches and Canyonlands National Parks boast the vibrant "red rock" formations that have become Utah's trademark, but here you will also find acres of broad, rolling sand dunes in colors ranging from salmon, to orange, to cream, with every variation in between.

Native American culture is prominent in southeastern cities such as Blanding, Monticello, and Montezuma Creek. Nearby ancient ruins whisper in echoes of stone the kinship between humans and the land. The evidence of these Puebloan cultures is pecked and painted in petroglyphs and pictographs at every turn.

Rising like cool mirages above miles of sagebrush flats, the snow-capped La Sal and Abajo Mountains preside like tribal elders. Mesas stretch and stack and sometimes drop suddenly into deep crevices or enormous canyons. Lake Powell's confluence of water and stone forms the western edge of this area. The sacred formations of Monument Valley Tribal Park spread south from Utah into Arizona.

Utah! Campgrounds

CAMPING OPTIONS in this diverse state can be anything from mountain sites dotted with wild flowers and edged with aspen trees, to locations only steps from wide, sandy beaches, and quiet, desert camps under skies blanketed with twinkling stars. Campers may choose from nearly 400 public and private campgrounds throughout Utah. The campground grids that follow have specific campground information. For more information on camping areas, contact the commercial campgrounds directly or call the land management agency as listed that administers the campground.

GLEN CANYON NATIONAL RECREATION AREA –
Original Oil by Larry Graham Clarkson

Reservations, Fees and Special Passes

Overnight camping and/or day use fees are charged at most of the public campgrounds, based on the facilities at the individual campground. Camping in National Forests, National Parks and Recreation Areas, and on BLM-Administered Lands are generally on a first-come, first-served basis. (For large group sites in National Parks or National Forests, reservations are generally required.) For all State Parks, advance reservations may be made by calling (800) 322-3770, or Salt Lake calling area (801) 322-3770. To make reservations in the National Forests, call (877) 444-6777. If payment is made by major credit card, instant confirmation of the campsite reservation is given. Walk-in applications can be obtained at all State Parks and some National Forests. Information can be accessed through several web sites: www.reserveusa.com, www.fs.fed.us, www.nps.gov, www.BLM.gov, to assist campers.

A Multiple Park Pass is available allowing free day-use in all State Parks. A Single Park Pass is also available that allows free day-use in one park. For Utah residents 62 years of age and over, or permanently disabled, a free Special Fun Tag allows day-use in all State Parks.

National Parks, National Forests, and BLM offer a Golden Age Passport (one-time fee) for U.S. Citizens 62 and older and a free Golden Access Passport for the blind and permanently disabled. Available at the park or agency offices, these passports provide a 50 percent discount on single family campsites where a use fee is charged. They also provide free entry to the National Parks. A Golden Eagle Passport is also available. It allows entrance to National Parks and Recreation Areas for one year.

To reach the Public Lands Recreational Information Center, call (801) 466-6411, Tuesday-Saturday, 10 a.m.- 6 p.m., MST.

For a free book of Utah Campgrounds from Utah Campgrounds Owners Association, please write to: UCOA, 1370 West North Temple, Salt Lake City, UT 84116, or e-mail them at ddavism@aol.com.
